Important information

VCTs should be regarded as higher-risk investments designed for UK resident taxpayers with an investment time horizon of greater than five years, which is the minimum holding period to qualify for income tax relief. Subject to certain criteria, the VCT and the individuals who invest in them can benefit from various tax benefits. VCT tax relief, however, depends on the personal circumstances of holders of shares in VCTs. If a VCT loses its status as a VCT, an investor could lose the tax reliefs available on VCT shares resulting in adverse tax consequences for the investor.

Prospective investors should seek their own independent financial, tax, legal and other advice before making a decision to invest. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of how the investment will perform in the future and your capital is at risk.

Key risks

- The value of your investment and the income from it is not guaranteed and may fall as well as rise
- As your capital is at risk you may get back less than you originally invested
- Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. For details of the past performance of the Baronsmead VCTs please see page 11
- Any tax reliefs are dependent on your individual circumstances and may be subject to change. Please seek independent tax advice
- Funds investing in smaller, younger companies may carry a higher degree of risk than funds investing in larger, more established companies
- Investments in smaller companies may be less liquid than investments in larger companies
- For a fuller list of key risks please see page 19 of this document

What are Venture Capital Trusts (VCTs)?

Venture Capital Trusts (VCTs) are listed, closed-ended, tax-efficient investment vehicles, designed to give investors exposure to businesses and industries in the early stages of growth.

The UK Government introduced VCTs in 1995 as a way of encouraging investment in Britain's entrepreneurial businesses and in the 30 years since, they have been instrumental in building and bolstering the UK economy.

VCTs can invest in both unquoted (private, unlisted) and quoted (listed) companies. Typically, VCTs invest in a portfolio of unquoted companies however, there are a small number of hybrid VCTs in the market which invest in a combination of unquoted and quoted companies.

Potential benefits

- Income tax relief of up to 30% of the subscription amount on new shares (some or all of which investors may have to repay if they sell those shares within five years)
- Tax-free dividends
- Tax-free gains on sale of shares (after five years of new shares being issued)

people are currently employed by VCT backed businesses.

Panthera Biopartners: backing a UK clinical-trials leader from first cheque to exit

The Baronsmead VCTs first backed Panthera Biopartners, the UK clinical trials specialist, in 2020, via Gresham House Ventures (GHV) when it led the company's Series A round. That early, institutional support funded Panthera Biopartner's build-out of a UK network of dedicated clinical-trial sites and the team needed to run them, laying the foundations for rapid scale.

In April 2022, Baronsmead VCTs participated in a £10m follow-on round alongside fellow investors BGF to accelerate expansion across the UK and Western Europe. By then, Panthera Biopartners had grown from launch to a major UK SMO (site management organisation) with a strong order book, and the new funding targeted further site openings and service enhancement.

Operationally, Panthera's progress since 2022 was striking. Revenues grew by more than 200% while the business cemented an exceptional delivery record. At exit, Panthera Biopartners operated six UK sites (with two more in development) and supported programmes for a wide range of sponsors, including eight of the world's twelve largest pharmaceutical companies and all of the top seven global Contract Research Organisations (CROs). The company's ability to recruit patients quickly and deliver consistently gave trial sponsors greater certainty and speed, improving time-to-commercialisation.

Case study selected for illustrative purposes only and does not constitute an investment recommendation.

That performance culminated in a successful exit for the Baronsmead VCTs on 12 August 2025, when LDC made a significant investment in Panthera Partners. The existing management team, led by CEO Stuart Young, remained in place; BGF also reinvested as a minority shareholder. For Baronsmead VCTs, the transaction marked a strong outcome, reflecting the strategy of backing technology-enabled healthcare businesses that solve critical bottlenecks, in this case, patient recruitment and retention in late-stage clinical trials.

Reflecting on the investment, Maya Ward, Investment Director, said: "The investment has delivered handsomely for the Baronsmead VCTs and its investors. Alongside this, it has also been a pleasure to see the Panthera Biopartners' team scale the business into one of the UK's leading clinical trials providers."

Outcome & Reflections

From first institutional cheque in 2020 to exit in 2025, Baronsmead VCTs supported Panthera Biopartners through multiple funding rounds as the company professionalised operations, expanded its site footprint, and demonstrated differentiated speed and reliability in trial delivery. Our successful exit in 2025 both validated the growth achieved and positioned Panthera for its next phase of UK and European expansion while delivering a strong return for Baronsmead VCT investors.

Consistent long-term performance

The Baronsmead VCTs have delivered consistent, robust long-term performance.

This is enabled through investment in companies operating in higher growth parts of the economy but also through the diversification in the portfolio.

Risks

Key risks specific to the issuer

There can be no guarantee that the Companies' investment objectives will be achieved or that suitable investment opportunities will be available. The performance of each Company (and the ability to achieve returns for Shareholders) will be dependent on the investment opportunities sourced by the Investment Manager and the performance of those investments.

Any change of governmental, economic, fiscal, monetary or political policy, in particular any changes to taxation, tax reliefs and changes to the VCT rules, could materially affect, directly or indirectly, the operation and/or the performance of the Companies (and the portfolio companies in which they invest).

Economic and global political uncertainty may adversely affect the performance of companies in which the Companies have invested or may invest (including short-term reductions in valuation) which in turn may adversely affect the performance of the Companies and the returns to investors.

Current factors of significance include changes or increases in tariffs on international trade, conflicts in Ukraine and the Middle East, potential low levels of economic growth, supply chain loss and disruption, high or volatile interest rates, currency volatility, increases in inflation and energy costs and tight labour markets. These factors may also negatively impact the number or quality of investment opportunities available to the Companies.

While it is the intention of the BVT Directors and BSVT Directors that the respective Companies will be managed so as to continue to qualify as VCTs, there can be no guarantee that the Companies will maintain VCT status. A failure to meet the qualifying requirements could result in the loss of tax reliefs previously obtained.

In order to comply with VCT legislation, the Companies invest in unquoted and AIM-traded companies, which by nature may involve a higher degree of risk than investment in companies traded on the main market of the London Stock Exchange (the "Main Market").

The Companies' investments may be difficult to realise. The fact that a share is traded on the alternative investment market of the London Stock Exchange ("AIM") does not guarantee its liquidity. The valuation of the Companies' portfolios and opportunities for realisation of the investments will vary with stock market conditions.

Key risks specific to the securities

The sale price for a Share which a Shareholder could achieve on the Main Market may be significantly less than the net asset value per Share or the price paid by the Shareholder to acquire that Share. The market value of, and the returns derived from, the Shares may go down as well as up and an investor may not get back the amount invested.

There is a limited secondary market for shares in VCTs (primarily because initial VCT income tax relief is only available to individuals who subscribe for newly issued shares rather than upon the purchase of existing issued shares) and investors may find it difficult to realise their investments.

A Shareholder who disposes of Ordinary Shares within five years of issue will be subject to clawback by HMRC of any income tax reliefs originally claimed on subscription. Any realised losses on a disposal of Ordinary Shares cannot be used to create an allowable loss for capital gains tax purposes.
